In following the constant news of injustice and corruption, I feel what Asaph, the demoralized writer of Psalm 73, felt in verses 2-14.

But then I pray and reflect after his example that God sees and will give the wicked what they deserve (verses 16-20).

Bible Gateway passage: Psalm 73 – New International Version
BOOK III Psalms 73–89 –A psalm of Asaph. Surely God is good to Israel, to those who are pure in heart. But as for me, my feet had almost slipped; I had nearly lost my foothold. For I envied the arrog...

2 But as for me, my feet had almost slipped;
I had nearly lost my foothold.
3 For I envied the arrogant
when I saw the prosperity of the wicked

9 Their mouths lay claim to heaven,
and their tongues take possession of the earth.
10 Therefore their people turn to them
and drink up waters in abundance

4

they have no struggles,
their bodies are healthy and strong.

5

They are free from common human burdens;
they are not plagued by human ills.

6

Therefore pride is their necklace;
they clothe themselves with violence.

7

From their callous hearts comes iniquity;
their evil imaginations have no limits.

8

They scoff, and speak with malice;
with arrogance they threaten oppression.

12

Does the Most High know anything?"

13

This is what the wicked are like—always free of care, they go on amassing wealth.

14

Surely in vain I have kept my heart pure and have washed my hands in innocence.

15

All day long I have been afflicted, and every morning brings new punishments.

And I will add that I do think as we look back through history, the injust and corrupt are remembered for their evil.

The wicked do prosper for a time, but even on this side of the grave, their actions are often found out and they are humiliated.

Note Psalm 73 is also a call to integrity. We don't just trust in God's eventual justice but also are to be an example of pure motives.

Surely God is good to Israel, to those who are pure in heart ... I have kept my heart pure and have washed my hands in innocence.

Psalm 73:1,13

Thread with reactions to this below.

I have put "evangelical" in parenthesis because people increasingly do not use the term because it is so associated with politics. They would have used the term in the past to express their high regard for the Bible and conviction that Jesus is "good news" (Greek: euangelion).
