This article from 2016 about women and alcohol is quite something.
"Giving up alcohol opened my eyes to the infuriating truth about why women drink."

"A woman with a PBR is a Cool Girl who will not be shamed for belching. A woman drinking MommyJuice wine is saying she's more than the unpaid labor she gave birth to. The things women drink are signifiers for free time and self-care and conversation."

By the grace of God & the fellowship of others in recovery, today I celebrate eight years clean & sober.

If you struggle with a substance or mental illness (or both, like me) & think there's no hope for you, know I have been where you are. And now I'm here, and I love company.

Thread with reactions to this below.

I have put "evangelical" in parenthesis because people increasingly do not use the term because it is so associated with politics. They would have used the term in the past to express their high regard for the Bible and conviction that Jesus is "good news" (Greek: euangelion).

English professor at "evangelical" university Oklahoma Baptist and writer:
